LITTLE HOPE FOR PLANE ON ATLANTIC

Belief General That Plane Has Fallen or Been Forced Down on Ocean—Possibly Near Some Vessel

NO NEWS FOR MORE THAN DAY

If Aviators Forced Down on Grand Banks, May Have Been Saved by Fishing Boat Without Radio

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Sept. 2.—At midnight virtually every one actively interested in the missing transatlantic monoplane, St. Raphael, dropped ceaseless vigil, which had begun at dawn. Further watch was believed hopeless, the signal station was closed and belief was general that the plane had gone down, although possibly near some rescuer, such as one of the Grand Banks fishing fleets, un-equipped with radio.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—A check-up of the Federal Government's chain of radio stations at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River and along its shores as darkness was falling, failed to glean any reports of the transatlantic monoplane St. Raphael, now several hours overdue.

WIDESPREAD ANXIETY LONDON, Sept. 1.—British hopes and fears hover nervously over the Atlantic tonight. The monoplane St. Raphael, with Captain Hamilton, Colonel Minchin and Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim aboard, is now so many hours overdue, after making the greatest allowance for slower speed than it was thought she would develop, that hopes still held in the afternoon grew fainter and fainter as the night wore on.

The presence of a woman in the plane makes public interest all the greater. The plane has a supply of petrol only sufficient for forty hours of flying and unless heard from within a very few hours, the fate of the flyers necessarily must arouse the greatest anxiety.

GRAVEST FEARS Captain Hinchcliffe, the Columbia's new pilot, and other aviators throughout the day maintained that anxiety was needless even if the St. Raphael was not heard from by 10 o'clock tonight. But that hour has passed and most of them are beginning to have the gravest fears, with the possibility remaining that the trio may have been rescued by some ship lacking a wireless outfit.

The Air Ministry has had no news whatever since the report from an unknown source Wednesday night, stating:

"Going down at 11:30," which it was assumed, came from a steamer in the Atlantic. Since then there has been complete silence.

Mayfair circles talked of little today but the waning chances of Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim. Many recalled the time when as a child she led an old-fashioned, carefully-guarded life, contrasting greatly with the audacity of her later years. She was one of the first European women to interest herself in flying.

No anxiety is felt that the aviators would be starved; they carried provisions that the Upan experts say might be stretched to last four days, and ample coffee.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Fokker monoplane, St. Raphael, which took off from the Roosevelt Field early tomorrow morning bound for Harbor Grace, Nfld., to search for the missing British flyers of the crew of the St. Raphael, Philip Payne, Hearst representative, announced tonight.

MR. R. P. Butchart, one of British Columbia's best-known philanthropic citizens, was honored last night by the Kinsmen Club of Victoria, when he was presented by the club with a gold pin, and became the first honorary member of the Kinsmen Club of this city.

Mr. Gordon M. Campbell, president of the Kinsmen Club, in making the presentation, stated that the Kinsmen recognized that Mr. Butchart had always carried out the ideals of every service club by rendering service and pleasure to others, before self.

In thanking the club for the honor accorded him, Mr. Butchart declared that the principles of the Kinsmen Club were good, and if the members faithfully practiced them, they would make splendid men, and the world would be better for it.

Mr. Jack Clifford, of Vancouver, national president of Canadian Kinsmen, paid his official visit to the local Kinsmen Club at their dinner session in the private dining-room of the Empress Hotel, and was given an enthusiastic reception.

Two additional features of the gathering were the presentation by Mr. Clifford of the attendance cup to the Victoria Club, which had the best attendance during the past year of the Canadian Kinsmen Clubs, and the installation of Mr. Ainslee Helmcken, past president of the local Kinsmen body, as Kinsmen governor of Western Canada.

NOTED ORATOR TO SPEAK HERE

SIR GEORGE FOSTER WILL ADDRESS VICTORIA PUBLIC ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Canada's Eloquent Statesman Will Present Subject at Royal Victoria Hotel Tonight

The opportunity will be afforded this evening to learn all the latest news with respect to the activities of the League of Nations. An additional interest will attach to the address which will be given in the Royal Victoria Theatre from the fact that the speaker will be the Hon. Sir George E. Foster, one of the ablest speakers in Canada.

Sir George was the chief delegate to last year's Assembly of the League of Nations, held in Geneva, and in addition is noted for the canny manner in which he is able to present his argument.

Sir George Foster will on the following day celebrate the eightieth anniversary of his birth. His years, however, have not in the least interfered with his faculties, and his ability to express himself on public questions. This was clearly exemplified a few weeks ago when he was present in the city for the Diamond Jubilee celebration of Confederation, and he spoke on three or four occasions on that day with all his old time force.

With Lady Foster, Sir George has been spending the Summer in the Okanagan, and is now preparing to leave again for the East. He arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon, and is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Victoria citizens desirous of hearing Sir George on this occasion, should bear in mind that, it is expected the Royal Victoria Theatre will be taxed to its seating capacity, and those contemplating attending the lecture should come early. The doors will open at 7:45 o'clock. Admission will be free, but a collection will be taken to defray the expenses of the theatre.

MUSIC SAID TO BE DUE TO JELLY FISH

LEEDS, Sept. 1.—If you are musical, like dancing or have poetical instincts, you may thank your jelly fish progenitors of some ago, in the opinion of Dr. G. P. Bidder, British zoologist.

Dr. Bidder outlined his theory that animals developed from a form of jellyfish, in an address today before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, and added:

"Our appreciation of dancing, poetry and jazz music is due to the biological rhythm inherited from our flagellate forefathers and shows that we are still flagellates at heart."

PRINCE OF WALES TO SPEAK AT CLUB

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The Prince of Wales and Prince George spent a long afternoon on the links at Dixie. The two Princes, who favored the British golfing style, played the first of their tour, were back to play again for today's game.

A rainstorm broke before the brothers were able to return, and the game was almost 8 o'clock in the evening before they were back to dress for dinner. The Prince of Wales will make his last speech of the present visit before the Montreal Canadian Club tomorrow.

Bank Directors to Arrive Here Shortly

SIR JOSEPH FAVELLE, BART.

Following their policy of keeping in close touch with development in Western Canada, a group of executive officers and directors of the Canadian Bank of Commerce will spend several days early this month in Vancouver and Victoria. The party will include such eminent financiers as Sir Joseph Flavelle, Bart., chairman of the board of directors; Sir John Aldred, president; Sir Thomas White, former Minister of Finance, and Mr. E. R. Wood, who is also director of the Canada Life Assurance Company, Dominion Securities Corporation, together with Mr. S. H. Logan, general manager of the bank.

SCANDINAVIANS WOULD DISARM

Determined Drive to Be Made for Reduction in Armaments—Germany Urged to Take Lead

LEAGUE MAY ELECT JAPANESE AS HEAD

GENEVA, Sept. 1.—With the opening of the forty-sixth session of the council of the League of Nations today, reports were current that Sweden and some other Scandinavian lands were trying to induce Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Secretary, to take the leadership of the small powers in the League in a determined drive at the forthcoming assembly to force a general reduction of armaments on the world.

Their argument is that if Dr. Stresemann directs the disarmament move Germany will become a greater force in the League than she has been, and will be able to follow the lead of her fellow great powers, which would, in the Scandinavian view, weaken the disarmament effort and simultaneously curb Germany's international political importance.

The council meeting is preliminary to the convoking of the assembly, September 1, and the members of the council will take under consideration many of the questions that are to be submitted to the assembly. Administrative questions occupied the council today.

CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT In the meantime a campaign is going on over the presidency of the assembly. Some of the Latin American elements are actively advocating the election of Dr. Guerrero, Salvadorean Minister to France, who will retire from the council at the end of the year, probably in favor of a representative of Cuba, who is expected to be elected a non-permanent member of the council.

Sir Austen Chamberlain is said to be backing Alberto Guani, of Uruguay, for the presidency, while the candidacy of Mineichiro Adachi, of Japan, is finding warm support.

Still another movement, look shape tonight in favor of Count Albert Mensdorff-Dietrichstein, of Austria, former envoy to London, for the assembly presidency. This candidacy, it is understood, will probably receive considerable Latin American support.

It is reported that Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, have reached an agreement to postpone the meeting of the preparatory commission of the disarmament conference, fixed for November, until Spring, 1928.

Dr. Stresemann, Germany, it also is asserted, will insist on hastening preparations for a general disarmament conference.

CROUSE MOUNTAIN TRAIL TREATED

NORTH VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—The Crouse Mountain Trail, used by residents of Greater Vancouver for the past forty years, will be closed following the decision of the North Vancouver district council to create a health reserve on Mosquito Creek.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The Prince of Wales and Prince George spent a long afternoon on the links at Dixie. The two Princes, who favored the British golfing style, played the first of their tour, were back to play again for today's game.

A rainstorm broke before the brothers were able to return, and the game was almost 8 o'clock in the evening before they were back to dress for dinner. The Prince of Wales will make his last speech of the present visit before the Montreal Canadian Club tomorrow.

MUSEUMS TRY TO COVER TOO MUCH GROUND

Such Is Opinion of Mr. G. H. Heye, Founder of Museum of the American Indian at New York

IS VISITING HERE WITH MRS. HEYE

Will Carry on Some Work in Connection With Primitive Man on Adjacent Islands

THE true function of the museum in an age of specialization, is to supply what cannot be seen elsewhere, in the opinion of Mr. George Gustav Heye, founder of the Museum of the American Indian, New York.

Mr. Heye, in addition to founding the museum, has placed there his private collection of many thousands of specimens. He is now its director, having associated with him a number of prominent people interested in anthropological research.

Mr. Heye, who is registered at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Heye, also an enthusiastic archaeologist, says the average museum should limit its collection of general objects, retaining only enough to illustrate certain phases of development. Then it may specialize in subjects not covered elsewhere.

That is the policy which he personally advocates, and which he has put into effect in the various expeditions sent out under the Heye Foundation.

NO OVERLAPPING He also believes in avoiding overlapping in the work of expeditions. His purpose while his ethnological work embraces the two American continents, wherever other expeditions are operating, the Heye collectors turn elsewhere in the search of new material. Such is the case now in connection with the expeditions operating for the Heye Foundation, two of which are working in South America, one in Salvador, and a fourth in Nicaragua. The museum is not now working in Mexico, feeling that the Carnegie Foundation is covering this territory.

Mr. Heye himself has collected recently in the Argentine Republic. He plans to come up to one of the neighboring islands, probably Newbey, in the Haro archipelago, or in the vicinity of Bellinham, this area not having been examined in detail for a number of years, and to spend next Winter there in investigation.

EXPECTS VALUABLE DATA Mr. Heye believes there will be found in that investigation valuable material for the study of the various tribes of the coast, more particularly in relation to the aborigines who preceded those encountered in the nineteenth century by the European explorers. He thinks the results may possibly connect missing links in the history of the North American Indian, perhaps throwing some light upon the supposed migration from Asia by way of the Aleutian Islands in the long ago.

He has an extensive collection in the museum of the Indian relics of the Pacific Northwest, and he expects to be collecting on this visit, which is in the nature of a holiday one.

With the party is Mr. Herman Hendricks, vice-president of the Museum of the American Indian.

PARK WOULD BE COSTLY PRESENT

Board of Arbitration in 1917 Set Price of $668,200 on Vancouver Property

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Although members of the Vancouver town planning commission have expressed the belief that the Dominion Government may grant the old Kinsmen Indian reserve to the city for a park, Corporation Council G. E. McCrossan intimates that the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars may be necessary to acquire the eighty acres.

Mr. McCrossan has communicated to the Federal Minister of the Interior and the Department of Indian Affairs the city's application for a grant to the property.

Mr. McCrossan points out that in 1916 the Vancouver Harbor Commission was granted permission to commence expropriation proceedings to acquire the reserve for industrial purposes. A board of arbitration in 1917 set a price of $668,200 for the reserve.

The Dominion Government, not satisfied with the award, appealed to Chief Justice Hunter, who quashed it on the grounds that the Provincial Government had not received sufficient notice, declares Mr. McCrossan.

The Harbor Board appealed to the Court of Appeal against Mr. Justice Hunter's decision, but that court ruled it was without jurisdiction.

TO ORGANIZE AIR LEAGUE FOR CANADA

Will Be Similar in Scope and Function to British Air League and in Co-operation With That Body

GENERAL MacBRIEN ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Dr. Haden Guest Present as Representative of League in Britain—Scope, Function and Need Outlined

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—Steps were taken here today to form a Canadian Air League, similar in scope and function to the Air League of the British Empire, formed in Great Britain in 1908. At a luncheon given by Major-General J. H. MacBrien, attended by a number of representative airmen from Montreal, Ottawa, and Toronto, it was decided to form the Canadian Air League, and a provisional committee was appointed, with Major-General MacBrien as chairman.

Dr. Haden Guest, former British member of Parliament, was present at the luncheon, representing the Air League of the British Empire, and was specially delegated by the head of the league, General Grouse, to offer its co-operation in the formation of a partner league in Canada.

Dr. Guest explained the scope and function of the British league and pointed out the need of a representative organization in each country of the Empire to assist the civil, commercial and military development of aviation.

Some Indians are alleged to be under suspicion in connection with the crime, but the latest information is that there has been no arrest made.

The body of Leach, when found in the cabin of his little craft, left no doubt in the minds of those who located it of the tragedy. There was a gash above one of his eyes, and another gash at the back of his head. His body lay in a pool of blood, and about the cabin and the deck of the boat there was crimson stains.

THE DISCOVERY To Mrs. E. W. Abraham, the wife of the Justice of the Peace at Tofo, there was due credit for becoming suspicious that all was not right, and of taking the initiative in investigating the situation, which led to the discovery of the body of a most gruesome discovery.

The crime, it would appear, was committed sometime about midnight on Monday. On Tuesday morning Mrs. Abraham sighted the launch on the beach some distance from the shore.

TWO FUNCTIONS TO BE DISCHARGED

Immediately following the conclusion of the business the convention will reconvene to proceed to the election of delegates to attend the National Convention of the party, which will meet in Winnipeg on September 10.

For this convention the federal riding will be entitled to select four delegates and four alternates.

The convention will be held at the Nanaimo Hotel, and it is expected that the various provincial Conservative members and nominees in the districts that are embraced in the federal riding will all be present, including Mr. R. H. Pooley, House Leader; Mr. John Bennett, recently chosen president of the province; Hon. E. P. Tominie, M.P.P.; Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P.P.; and Hon. T. G. Coventry, M.P.P.

The leader of the party in the province, Hon. E. P. Tominie, will also be in attendance. It is anticipated, and Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., the sitting federal member. Following the election of delegates, the opportunity will be afforded of hearing from these representatives of the party.

The convention is to be held in the Odd Fellows Hall, commencing at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It will be presided over by Mr. John Bennett, and it is expected that the majority of the delegates will be from the Nanaimo provincial riding for the next election. The secretary, Captain W. J. Cox, of Esquimalt, has arrangements all well in hand for the gathering, so that there need be no loss of time in transacting the business.

There are fifty delegates in addition to the officers that are entitled to attend the convention, five each from the provincial ridings of Cowichan-Newcastle, Nanaimo, Saanich, The Islands, and Esquimalt.

CONVENTION DATE ADVANCED ONE DAY

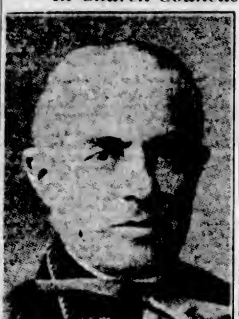

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—The Conservative convention will open in Winnipeg on Monday, October 10, in place of October 11. Official announcement of the change in the date was made at the conclusion of today's meeting of the national committee organizing the meeting.

PIRATES RAIDED

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Hong Kong correspondent of The West-End Gazette states that the British naval punitive expedition, consisting of the cruiser Danae, the coast patrol ship, the destroyer Sir Douglas, and the minesweeper, the gunboat, today raided Blas Bay in search of pirates who looted the steamer Yashin on Tuesday.

Several villages were destroyed by gunfire and dynamite, but no trace of the pirates was found.

GERMANY MAKES THIRD PAYMENT

AMOUNT DELIVERED THIS YEAR TOTALS 1,500,000,000 GOLD MARKS

First Standard Instalment Will Be Due Next Year and Totals 2,500,000,000 Marks

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—With the payment today of 55,000,000 gold marks, Germany met her reparation liability of 1,500,000,000 marks provided for the third year under the Dawes plan, it is stated in a communique issued by S. Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparations payments.

"Germany thus fully and punctually has met all the payments falling due during the third year of the plan," the communique says. "Her total payments to creditor powers for the three years during which the plan now has been operating total 3,720,000,000 marks. Her assessment for the twelve months beginning September 1, 1927, is 1,700,000,000 marks, with which the trial period of four years designated in the plan, as precedent to the first standard annuality of 2,500,000,000 marks, effective September 1, 1928, will have been completed.

"During the year completed today Germany received credit for deliveries in kind valued at 617,000,000 marks. The cost to her of maintaining the Rhineland occupation forces for the past year amounted to 74,000,000 marks."

YOUNG PRESIDENT FOR UNIVERSITY

SEATTLE, Sept. 1.—At the age of forty-six, Matthew Lyle Spencer, former newspaperman, today became the president of the University of Washington.

Coincident with Spencer's accession to the presidency, succeeding Dr. Henry Bussell, dismissed, the regents of the university announced that Bebb and Gould, of Seattle, who had been in charge of design and construction of all buildings on the campus since 1915. Their retirement was forewarned several months ago, when Carl F. Gould, a member of the faculty.

Windsor to Windsor and London to London Planes Both Forced Down by Fog

Monoplane Royal Windsor Lands Near St. Johns, Quebec, at 8 o'clock Last Night—Rival Lands About 6 o'clock in Open Field in Northern Part of Maine

Windsor Plane May Continue Flight Leaving Today for Newfoundland

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 2.—The monoplane Royal Windsor was forced down at St. Johns, Quebec, at 8 o'clock tonight, according to a long-distance telephone call to members of the flight committee.

Both C. A. "Duke" Schiller, pilot of the plane, which started off on a nonstop flight from here to Windsor, England, and his navigator, Phil Wood, talked on the telephone.

Because of a faulty telephone connection it was at first thought that they were forced down because a wing of their plane took fire. The flyers said that they had had splendid flying weather right up to the time they passed Montreal. They ran into a severe storm and fog and were forced down.

It was understood that they intended to hop off the first thing in the morning for Newfoundland. CARIBOU, Maine, Sept. 1.—The monoplane, Sir John Carling, attempted a flight from London, Ont., to London, Eng., landed about six o'clock. Eastern standard time, tonight in an open field in the town of Washington, six miles from here. Foggy conditions forced the flyers southward from their course to Newfoundland, and compelled them to interrupt their flight.

The plane first appeared over this town about 1:30 p.m., flying very low and circling as if in an effort to gain bearings and identify the town. It then headed off in a northeasterly direction toward the New Brunswick line.

The next report came from Washington when a farmer telephoned that the plane had landed there. The pilot, Captain Terry Tully, and Lieutenant James Medall, left the plane in the field where they landed for the night, and came into this town, going immediately to the Vaughan house.

GEN. SUTTON BUYS ROGERS BUILDING

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—The Rogers Building, Granville and Pender Streets, one of the city's largest office buildings, has been purchased by General F. A. Sutton, from Jonathan Rogers, according to an announcement made here tonight. The price is said to exceed $100,000.

AVIATORS RETURN FEW HOURS LATER

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 2.—After starting out to fly across the Atlantic to New York, at 6:21 o'clock this morning, the biplane Blue Bird returned and landed here at 10 a.m.

Two planes which intended to accompany the transatlantic plane to the coast, landed here and reported that the Bluebird struck a dense fog 100 miles from Paris.

Leon Givon and Pierre Carbu, who were on the Bluebird, landed at 6:

BICYCLIST IS HURT IN SMASH

MR. FRED HINCHCLIFFE INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON ESQUIMALT ROAD

Skids on Wet Road and Runs Into Passing Motor Car—Collar Bone and Ribs Broken

Mr. Frederick Hinchcliffe, 920 Russell Street, suffered a broken collar bone and fractured ribs when his bicycle skidded and he was struck by an automobile at the railway crossing on Esquimalt Road shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hinchcliffe, an employee of Yarrows, Limited, was returning to the city from work when, according to the police, his bicycle skidded on the wet road and he fell foul of a passing motor car driven by Mr. William Wicks, 927 Hereward Road. The police patrol rushed to the scene of the accident, and the injured man was removed to his home. Dr. Fowler later ordered him taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was reported to be in no danger, but to be resting very comfortably at an early hour this morning. This morning he will undergo an X-ray examination to ascertain the extent of his injuries.

away. Her curiosity was aroused, as she could not satisfy herself that all was right. Using glasses she could see no sign of life aboard the boat. Finally she decided to make an investigation, and taking a row-boat, she went to the scene. She was met on arrival with confirmation that the cold fact of a dead man lay on the deck of the launch. The vessel's deck was stained in every direction.

Signalling the shore, assistance came to her when Mr. Berly and Mr. Clarence Dawley and others joined the investigation. A broken window in the fore-cabin was another indication that all was not right aboard the vessel. One of the men put his hand through the broken window, only to encounter the cold fact of a dead man. Investigation at once revealed that a tragic scuffle had taken place, for there was blood everywhere around the man.

PASSENGERS' STORIES
These facts were gleaned from arrivals by the steamer Princess Mary, which reached port last evening from the West Coast. Among those on board were Mr. P. R. Fleming, who had been on a business trip up the coast. He had secured his information from those whom he had met, and said that when the steamer passed the launch yesterday morning, no arrests had been made in connection with the tragedy.

Leach had lived on the West Coast for some time, it appears. He had originally come from the East. He owned this launch, and during the summer months when the fishing was at its height, he employed for the purpose of taking fishery Officer McLeod about on his inspections.

Another report forthcoming was that sometime during the evening launch had been in the company of some Indians, and that that was the last occasion as far as could be learned when he had been seen by any of the white population.

The information following the finding of the body of Leach in the very suspicious condition surrounding it was sent by Mr. Abraham to the Provincial Police. In doing so, Mr. Abraham expressed the opinion that there were indications of foul play.

THE INVESTIGATIONS
Provincial Officers H. N. Wood and A. Monks proceeded to the scene, and an inquest was held very soon after the discovery of the body before Coroner L. A. Hanna, of Alberni.

As soon as Col. J. H. McMullin, Superintendent of Provincial Police, learned the facts, he advised that the remains should be held for further examination. Inspector T. W. S. Parsons and Mr. Sgt. A. T. Stephenson left Nanaimo on Wednesday, and were to pick up Dr. A. D. Morgan at Alberni. A thorough examination of the body would then be made upon the arrival of the officers and the doctor at the scene. They would reach Clayoquot sometime yesterday, it was officially stated.

VICTORIAN IS HONORED BY KINSMEN

In his first official address to the Victoria Kinsmen Club, Mr. Clifford complimented the local clubmen upon the progress the club had made since its inception. The local club had done wonderful work, and every club in the national organization was proud of it, he said.

GROWTH OF MOVEMENT
Mr. Clifford traced the history of the Kinsmen Club movement, recalling that it was organized six years ago in Hamilton, Ont., by the son of a Rotarian. Clubs were next formed in Toronto and Montreal, then Kinsmanship spread westward, until today there was a Kinsmen Club in all the principal Canadian centres. Kinsmen was a name which would live through all ages, and Kinsmanship would mean much to Canada, he stated. He referred to the Kinsmen being a national Canadian organization, and hoped that it would remain so for a long time.

"I believe that the time is not far distant when our members will take part in the affairs of government, and see that Canada gets a square and a straight deal. We are particularly interested in the next twenty-five years, and such bodies as the Kinsmen organization will play their part in making Canada a mighty nation, and one which we will be proud of being a part," Mr. Clifford declared, amid applause.

The speaker congratulated the local club on winning the attendance trophy. He alluded to the fine work which Governor Ansdie Heimken had done for the Kinsmen.

MR. NICHOLAS PRAISES WORK
Mr. B. C. Nicholas, in a short address, extended congratulations to Mr. Butchart upon the honor which he had been accorded, and also the Kinsmen Club for their excellent selection of their first honorary member.

"The Kinsmen Club has honored itself by honoring Mr. Butchart," stated Mr. Nicholas, who declared that Mr. Butchart was a great Canadian.

Mr. Nicholas asserted that Victoria had an international reputation as the home of service club governors. Mr. James H. Beatty was the Rotary Governor, Mr. Kenneth Ferguson headed the Pacific Northwest Kiwanis District, Mr. Elmer V. Finland was the Governor of Gyro, while now Mr. Heimken, the fourth Victorian, had taken office as Western Kinsmen chieftain.

In concluding, the speaker referred to the enterprise, courage and patriotism displayed by the Kinsmen in their contribution to the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation in the erection of the memorial to the memory and achievements of the

MR. WM. DUFF ON WITNESS STAND

Intervention Admitted on Behalf of Persons Engaged in Liquor Smuggling

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—"I was never interested in the purchase of liquor. I never smuggled any liquor in my life. I never bought or sold any smuggled liquor in my life, although my friends in Nova Scotia have stated that I was a smuggler and a bootlegger."

Thus Mr. William Duff, member in the Federal Parliament for Antigonish-Guysboro, and formerly representative for the constituency of Lunenburg, declared to the Royal Customs Commission during the course of an examination by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., this afternoon. Mr. Duff was the feature witness of the opening day of the commission's final sittings. He occupied the witness chair for a large part of the afternoon during which time Mr. Rowell plied him with questions as to his connection with rum-running vessels, his intervention on behalf of the persons who got into trouble with the authorities for their activities in the liquor business and other matters pertinent to the inquiry.

BOATS AND CARS

On the question of intervention, Mr. Duff declared frankly he had intervened on behalf of a large number of persons who had been guilty of infractions of the law. As a member of Parliament he said he felt that it was his duty to lay before the Minister of Customs the facts in regard to a large number of these cases. He did not intervene when the case was in the courts, he said, nor did he do so when he thought that the punishment was fully merited. But when, in addition to a fine, a man was deprived of his boat or car which he required to earn his living, he frequently took the matter up with Ottawa.

REDFERN MYSTERY REMAINS UNSOLVED

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 1.—The whereabouts of Paul R. Redfern, the young Georgia aviator, who disappeared while starting his solo flight from Brunswick to Brazil, August 25, remained an unsolved mystery at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Up to that time no confirmation had been received here of an earlier circumstantial report that Redfern had "fallen down" near Alemquer, State of Para. The Brazilian Government, to prevent the dissemination of misleading reports, has ordered all land, cable and radio stations not to give to the public the slightest news of the aviator until after flashing it to Rio Janeiro.

Reports Come From Many States of Difficulties Between Owners and Operators

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Several other cities reported threatened ruptures of relations between movie theatre owners and their employees as stage hands and operators here agreed to stand together on demands that have closed all of this city's motion picture and vaudeville houses.

Operators at Minneapolis threatened to walk out unless they were granted increased wages; musicians at Richmond, Va., will not be in the orchestra pits next week because of rejected contract offers, a spokesman said, and a showdown is imminent between owners and employees at Los Angeles. Operators and musicians of three Decatur, Ill., houses quit last night when they failed to effect new contracts.

The Chicago Federation of Labor and the Theatre Janitors' Union today extended their moral support to the stage hands, musicians and operators thrown out of work by the men cause, and said he knew that Kinsmanship would progress and prosper through having as its Western head the former president of the Victoria Kinsmen Club.

controversy which began as a strike and developed into a lockout. While the operators and stage hands, who called a strike last night after representatives failed to make a new contract, were pledging allegiance, theatre owners again declared their intention to hold out at all costs.

OTHER SPEAKERS
Greetings were extended to the Kinsmen by Mr. James H. Fletcher, president of the Rotary Club, and President Archie Willis, of the Gyro Club, on behalf of their respective organizations. Both clubs recognized and were appreciative of the splendid service which Mr. Butchart had rendered to the community, and were at all times ready to cooperate with the Kinsmen Club in any service programme, they explained.

Mr. Percy White and Mr. Jim Forsyth, president and vice-president of the Vancouver Kinsmen Club, and Mr. Van Shinder, also of Vancouver, national secretary of Canadian Kinsmen, also spoke briefly. Among the guests were Mr. Ray L. Mason, Chief Factor of Post No. 3, Native Sons of British Columbia.

The Victoria Kinsmen accepted an invitation of the Vancouver Kinsmen Club to pay that club a visit on September 17, when an inter-city golf competition will likely be played on the Mainland, followed by a banquet and meeting.

CITY AND OIL FIELD DAMAGED BY FLOODS

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 1.—More than 180 persons have perished, as estimated by present reports, in the floods which have raged in Southern Poland. Ten thousand persons are homeless and utterly destitute.

The town of Kutly has been destroyed and the fortress town of Zremyol, of 47,000 inhabitants, is inundated. The oil fields near Dobobycz and Boryslav are badly damaged.

The flood area extends for 160 miles from Zremyol and Boryslav in the north to the Rumanian frontier. Airplanes are being used for the most part in directing rescuers to the most distressed places.

NEIGHBORS 100 MILES AWAY

Neighbors do not bother a family which has settled in Central Australia. Those "next door" are two white men who live 100 miles away, and the nearest white woman has a home 300 miles farther on. The family, which went from Lancashire, England, to live in a brush-wood shanty, comprises father, mother and two grown daughters. They have many cattle, and the elder daughter wears corduroy breeches and a jacket, and helps her father with the cattle. The younger assists her mother. The four have to doctor each other.

RABBIT TRAPPERS THRIVE

Rabbits, Australia's chief natural pest, are making small fortunes for amateur trappers as a result of the world demand for rabbit fur. Two young men at Coonabarabran, N.S.W., made $2,000 in five weeks by trapping the jumpers and selling the skins. A boy of ten is said to have cleaned up $100 during a two weeks' vacation, from sale of skins of rabbits he had caught. The rabbit was first taken into Australia as a pet, but multiplied so rapidly that there are now millions of them there.

You need no description of the quality of its music. To say it is an Orthophonic Victrola is to say all.

This newcomer among Orthophonic Victrolas is designed in the graceful William and Mary manner—in rich mahogany or walnut—in wood carefully matched and color-blended, with a care for the delicate effects it is possible nowadays to achieve in two tones.

The beautiful, turned legs and a bottom rail of graceful curvature compose an instrument of rhythmic beauty that is art—yet "lends a grace beyond the reach of art."

LAKE ONTARIO SWIM

The victory of the German, Ernest Vierkoetter, in the twenty-one-mile swimming race in Lake Ontario is perhaps one of the most remarkable natural feats on record. The chilled waters of the lake, the fact that only three competitors finished out of some three hundred, and the victory by four and a half hours over his rivals make Vierkoetter's performance one of endurance that has perhaps never been equalled in the swimming world. It is more remarkable still that he should have finished so comparatively fresh, and the acclamations of 200,000 people were a fitting tribute to a feat that afforded such a test of the physical capacities of manhood and womanhood. Vierkoetter proved himself easily the best swimmer in the race because he took the lead so early, and, as swimmer after swimmer had to be taken from the water, he increased that margin until it was a case of the German first and the rest nowhere. None of the women contestants finished in the race although some of them swam luckily enough. It was the cold which beat practically all, but even if they had been able to stick it, there is hardly a prospect that the result would have been different. The time in which Vierkoetter covered the distance was excellent. He swam at the rate of almost two miles an hour, a feat perhaps unparalleled in lake waters even for a short mileage.

Vierkoetter has made a fortune by his victory. It is a fortune largely in prospective, but none the less assured. The actual prize was $30,000, but the win will ultimately, perhaps, represent a million dollars, because the German can now make almost any contract he likes for the future acknowledgment of his publicity. So much attention has been attracted to the event, and it was participated in by such a body of swimmers, that the conquest of the English and Catalina Channels will, in the eyes of the public generally, seem of secondary interest. Germany has every reason to be proud of her swimmer and in her eyes this international victory in endurance may wipe out some of the sting of defeat she sustained in the Great War.

APES OR ANGELS?

Sir Arthur Keith, in his presidential address to the British Association, says that "the fundamental of Darwin's outline of man's history remain unshaken." In saying this he has awakened anew an old-time controversy which, in recent years, has been agitating the New to a far greater extent than the Old World. Sir Arthur says that the evidence of man's evolution from an ape-like being is "definite and irrefutable." Apparently, he bases what he calls "definite and irrefutable" evidence on fossil remains, particularly mollusca, because he even goes to the point of assigning the date at which human and anthropoid fossils of descent began to diverge as near the beginning of the Miocene period. He also evidences evidence such as, that the blood of man and that of the great anthropoid apes gives almost the same reaction, and that the living anthropoid body possesses almost the same susceptibilities to infections and manifests the same reactions as does the body of man, as well as the similarity between the structural organizations of the brains of man and ape.

However the world at large may view the deductions of Sir Arthur Keith, he will in many minds have resuscitated "anthropophobos" or a new kind of apes, which, off and on for upwards of half a century, has been those who ponder on the origin of man and who do so without faith in that origin having been Divine. He has recalled to public credulity Carlyle's definition of the Darwin theory as the "monkey damnification of mankind," and perhaps has been the means of inducing people anew to judge their fellow men more by their ancestry than their qualities. The possible fallacies which enter into the theories of scientists as to the evolution of man are so numerous as to leave the widest kind of loopholes through which to escape from the conception that the human species has been descended from the anthropoid ape. There are errors of millions of years in what is described as the "date of man's origin." Some claim that this origin goes back to the Oligocene division of the Tertiary epoch and that then there was a neutral coast from which dawn-man and the apes rose independently.

Professor H. F. Osborn, chief of the American Museum of Natural History, points out, as a refutation of the Darwin theory, that the human line "was ground-living, cursorial, alert, capable of tool-making, and living in a relatively open country on the high plateaus and plains of Northern Asia, whereas the ape-line was tree-living, using its arms rather than its legs, sluggish, incapable of tool-making and restricted to the forests of South Temperate and Tropical countries." He believes that it is much more likely that the ape converged towards the human type, than vice versa. His studies, it is true, seem to have been based on mammals rather than on primates, and he traces man as belonging to a distinct zoological order. The answer which Darwinian supporters advance to his arguments is that "long continued life on the ground, so far as experience goes, has always produced specializations of the skeleton which man has escaped. His possession of five fingers and toes, fully formed, of a collar bone, and of a full complement of muscles of the limbs all show," say the Darwinian theorists, "that his life on the ground is an acquisition so late that it has not wiped out arboreal characters."

There is nothing in what scientists have discovered up to date that would suggest any finality in their findings about the descent of man. They pursue the question always without any relation to God or to the creation of life itself. To ascertain how any particular life has been evolved or developed, it is surely necessary to have some knowledge of the origin of life itself, and of this the scientists know as much today as Plato knew of what becomes of the soul after death. The twin mysteries of life have no relation to man's origin in his present structural form and brain power. Those mysteries are connected with the origin of life itself and its persistence in some other form, after death. Those who are interested or perturbed in scientific explanations on the basis of earthly knowledge alone will doubtless pursue with avidity the controversy that will arise following Sir Arthur Keith's re-assertion of the Darwinian theory. There are others, and they constitute the vast majority of mankind, who will probably continue to think with D'Israeli, who, when speaking before the Oxford Diocesan Conference in 1864, said: "The question is this: Is man an ape or an angel? I, my Lord, am on the side of the angels."

WRITING OF HISTORY

To the controversy on how history should be written and how studied an interesting contribution has come from Mr. Philip Guedalla. He refuses, he says, to be drawn into the ancient dog fight over the question whether history is to be called an art or a science. If it is the latter, "meaning that its sole foundation must be facts scientifically tested and established," he agrees; but he would prefer to say facts judiciously tested and established. If, however, by being called a science history is condemned to be written about like other sciences by total illiterates, he does not agree. Mr. Guedalla says that the historian should remember that though history is about dead men, they have not always been dead. If, therefore, history is to be made to live, it should be written from the angle of the men and women to whom the events happened and not from the angle of 1927. "The uncertainty of the event," he says, "has to be got into the narrative. The historian must give up talking about 'inevitable events.' He would do well to remember that very nearly everything in history very nearly did not happen."

Mr. Charles Dunning, the Minister of Railways, has endorsed Churchill as the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, but surely Parliament will have some rights in the matter since it must endorse the vote of millions which will be needed to effect the change in route. Parliament has already voted millions for the Nelson terminus, and now other millions will be wanted for Churchill if Mr. Dunning has his way. Votes purchased in this manner are too costly for the taxpayers as a whole.

The origin of the word "camouflage," applied to war tactics, dates from May, 1915, when one of the naval heavy armored cars under the command of the Duke of Westminster, operating near Laventie, used a canvas screen which was painted to represent a brick wall. This screen covered the action side of the car and from this beginning grew an elaborate system of camouflage.

The strength of Mohammedism as a religious cult is illustrated by the fact that the number of pilgrims brought by sea to Jeddah this year exceeds all previous records. The total approximated 130,000, from Java, Batavia and the Straits, from India, from Egypt and from other parts of the Moslem world.

If President Coolidge has his way the merchant marine owned by the United States will be sold and an effort made to recover some of the investment which has resulted in such heavy losses. State control of shipping in the United States meant a capital investment of $3,500,000,000, and the loss is estimated at $3,000,000,000.

THE DAWN OF PEACE

Awake! awake! the stars are pale, the east is russet grey;
 They fade, behold the phantoms fade, that kept the gates of day;
 Throw wide the burning valves, and let the golden streets be free,
 The morning watch is past—the watch of evening shall not be.

Put off, put off your mail, ye kings, and beat your brands to dust!
 A surer grasp your hands must know, your hearts a better trust.
 Nay, bend back the lance's point and break the helmet bar;
 A noise is on the morning winds, but not the noise of war.

Among the grassy mountain paths, the glittering troops increase—
 They come! They come!—How fair their feet—they come that publish peace!
 Yea, victory! fair victory! our enemies' and ours!
 And all the clouds are clamped in light, and all the earth with flowers.

Ah, still depressed and dim with dew; but yet a little while,
 And radiant with the deathless rose the wilderness shall smile;
 And every tender living thing shall feed by streams of rest.
 Nor lamb shall from the fold be lost, nor nursing from the nest.

For aye, the time of wrath is past, and near the time of rest.
 And honor binds the brow of man, and faithfulness his breast.
 Behold the time of wrath is past, and righteousness shall be.
 And the wolf is dead in Acre, and the dragon in the sea!

—John Ruskin.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

A friend of ours who has attained length of days, is a merry disreputable-looking boulevardier on our street during these pleasant autumn evenings, and seems to be deriving a great deal of satisfaction and joy from life, although he does not drive a motor car, has lent us a little pamphlet and asked us to read it. We have read the little work with a great deal of interest. Whether we shall profit from the reading of it we do not know, because while the spirit is willing the flesh is weak.

The little pamphlet was written by an Italian gentleman three hundred and sixty-one years ago. The author lived to what is called "a good old age." He was more than a hundred years old when he died, and he says he was not burdened with any of the infirmities of age when he was overtaken and claimed by death while sitting serenely in his easy chair. At the age of eighty-six this aged man, whose name was Lewis Cornaro, says he derived more enjoyment from singing and dancing and playing games with children than he did from eating heartily and drinking joyously with merry companions when he was forty years of age. So he sat down and wrote his pamphlet telling everybody how he did it.

According to Lewis Cornaro, living to be one hundred years of age is a very simple matter. Don't overload the stomach or overburden the heart. Eat just the amount of food of the right kind and drink just the amount of "liquor" of the right kind the system can assimilate, and make up your mind that you will live to be a hundred years of age—and you will do it, provided you do not permit spasms of ill-temper to "fly away with you" and exhaust your natural vitality. That is, be temperate in all things, not necessarily a "tee-totaler" in the modern sense of the term, and you will live in happiness and die in serenity.

We know that the old friend who supplied us with the very interesting pamphlet and has brighter prospects of living to be one hundred years of age than most of us will not admit that it is necessary to "take a little wine for the stomach's sake," for he is a strong Prohibitionist, and doubtless went to hear Mr. Puseyfoot Johnson discourse eloquently on the subject of the benefits Prohibition has bestowed on the people of the United States.

Lewis Cornaro frankly confesses that in his youth he was wild and wayward; that up to the age of forty he was a dissolute fellow, eating so much and drinking so merrily that his dissipations undermined his health and wrecked his constitution. The confession doubtless was made for the purpose of demonstrating that "it is never too late to mend." So at the age of forty Mr. Cornaro "turned over a new leaf," corrected his morals and rebuilt his constitution, married a wife, and "lived happily ever after." At the age of forty death stood by the side of his bed. At the age of a hundred his house swarmed with grandchildren, and he was happier in their company than ever he had been in the company of his boon companions. We trust our bachelor friends will make a note of this and banish from their minds the vain delusion that true happiness can be overtaken and run down in powerful motor cars.

But individual cases differ from general cases, and we doubt whether it is desirable that everybody should live to be a hundred years of age. We fear that if the world were saturated with centenarians that there would be millions of very unhappy people living in it. Life, as a rule, is not worth living if there is nothing in it worth living for, as one of the philosophers who writes for The Colonist pointed out a week or two ago. John D. Rockefeller, who looks as if he were crucifying the flesh every day of his life, does not look like an extremely happy man. But for his daily round of golf and his hobby of giving away dimes, which might just as well be dollars for all the difference it would make in his bank balance, probably he would be an extremely miserable man.

At the other extremity of the physical scale there is William Howard Taft. What would Mr. Taft look like if he adopted the system of the regimen of the ancient Italian philosopher, cut out one hearty meal a day and ate nothing but bread and butter and drank water at the other meals? He would look like a massive bag o' bones, and we doubt whether his grandchildren would find him a congenial and enjoyable companion.

And if any readers of The Colonist are thinking seriously of adopting the system in order to live happily and attain length of days, we advise them to consult Dr. Toimile or Col. Peck before doing it. If their circumstances are like ours there will be no necessity for them to consult anybody, for stern necessity, in conjunction with the prices asked for wines and strong drink at the Government liquor shops, compel moderation in eating and total abstinence from drinking. In our case even the wine that is making Spanish famous is a mocker.

MOURNING FOR THE DEAD

Sir—There are some individuals who delight in writing anonymously concerning others. Losing a brother, sister or any other relative is a sad affair and sometimes a shock. Every instance varies according to the amount of affection bestowed on the one that is gone—sometimes much, sometimes little.

Referring to my letter of the 24th, there are still some others of us who might still live to find out that these class greater sorrows among the living, which bring forth a deeper grief than that which death usually leaves in its wake. Hence remarks re mourning for the dead. I know where I speak.

PRIZE PLYMOUTH ROCKS

Sir—Permit me to draw your attention to an error in your report of the prize winners at the recent Provincial Fair.

The class of White Plymouth Rocks first prize here is reported as being that of Messrs. Wace & Remond. It should read here, first, G. F. Schermer, and the 287 people now living there export 80,000 a year to Buenos Aires.

I would not trouble you in the matter but being a newcomer here, having brought a few birds with me from Port William last December and having been a local winner with my birds for some years, I appreciate the publicity value of a correct report as an aid to my endeavor to get established here as a breeder of high class birds.

GEO. F. SCHERMER, D.D., Glen, Cadboro Bay, B.C., Aug. 29, 1927.

A SUGGESTION

Sir—Nature has told us not a little in regard to the necessity of adapting our food to bodily requirements. She provides the Eskimo with abundance of meat-producing food, while the native of the tropics finds in the prodigality of vegetable production what is required for fuel nutrition. No hard and fast dietary rule can be given, but investigation and deduction lead us to the conclusion that the food products of a certain zone are better adapted to the nutritive necessities of that particular zone, than are foods produced elsewhere. This being granted, let a practical application be made.

Through the writings and lectures of a certain so-called dietetic expert, who may or may not be subservient to the state, we have seen our markets flooded with Southern California citrus products, with the result that our home grown fruits and vegetables have been to a very large extent discounted and in fact some of our staple products have become a drag on the market.

In this we are violating the well known economic law—patronize home products and thus contribute to the development and wealth of the province and also violating the natural dietetic law that the more perfect nutrition can be had only by the use of such foods that are grown up in home land. There is nothing in the product of the orange and lemon groves of Southern California equal in wealth of nutrition and in the prevention of systemic decay to that which lies in the potentiality of the Okanagan orchards. We have a mine of wealth both financial and nationally lying at our doors awaiting a more extensive development and publicity.

Herein lies a suggestion that awaits capitalization. With a medical profession an enthusiastic unit in the recognition of the comparative merits of our home-produced foods, and in the therapeutic value of increased pear and apple consumption, the public would respond. If they have listened to another prophet, surely they would respond if the truth were palatable and energetically presented.

Apples and pears contain certain juices that are of much greater value than oranges and lemons in assisting in the oxidation within the body and in the burning up of waste material. They are also far superior in their nutritive value. They contain the essential salts and vitamins, "the very dynamite of food."

There can be no doubt but the frequent use of fruit, apples and pears would go far towards lessening the prevalence of chronic diseases as well as producing a modification of the cancer course. In fact, one of the more successful diet regimens that has stood the test of many years in this power to mitigate cancer, has completely excluded the citrus fruits and depends largely upon apples and pears as the great agent for cleansing the system.

Let the Okanagan Board of Trade and the Fruit Growers' Association of British Columbia make a mental note of the suggestion herein stated, as well as others who are interested in the development of the wealth and health of our Province.

There may be a deep truth in the old saying "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." If there is let us capitalize that truth.

Loyalty to British Columbia includes loyalty to our Okanagan orchards.

ERNEST A. HALL.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 2, 1877.)

Silver Quarts—News came from Clinton yesterday, through private sources, that Mr. Murrice has arrived there from Clearwater, on the North Thompson River, with a bag of silver quartz specimens, and would start again in a few days for the same place, after which he will proceed on a prospecting expedition to the Delta River, where he expects to find the pure silver.

For Wrennell—The Hudson's Bay Co's steamer Otter will leave today at 4 p.m. for Wrennell with about one hundred and twenty men of freight, the mail and a few passengers, among whom will be G. W. Wrennell and R. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham does up as purser.

Cricket—A match was played at Beacon Hill yesterday between an eleven of the Delta Players, and an eleven chosen from the baseball clubs; the game resulted in favor of the baseball clubs team by fifty-nine runs. A very large crowd witnessed the affair.

NANAIMO RECTOR WILL SUCCEED REV. WM. CARROLL AT ST. LUKE'S

Change Probably Taking Place in November—St. Paul's, Nanaimo, Parishioners Meeting

NANAIMO, Sept. 1.—Rev. S. Ryall, for the past ten years rector of St. Luke's Church here, is leaving to accept the appointment as rector of St. Luke's, Cedar Hill. The change probably will be made in November, and a meeting of St. Paul's parishioners is being called for Monday evening next to confer with the archdeacon of the diocese regarding the appointment of a successor.

CRUSOE'S ISLAND A FRUITFUL SPOT

WASHINGTON.—Robinson Crusoe had things pretty nice on his little island off South America, according to Dr. Waldo L. Schmitt, of the Smithsonian Institution, who has just completed a survey of the shrimp and crab resources of South America.

On his tour of the coast of the continent, Dr. Schmitt visited Juan Fernandez Island on which Alexander Selkirk, the original Crusoe, lived for more than four years. He found the island the most picturesque and the most fruitful spot of the trip.

The place is the edge of the crater of an extinct volcano and has every imaginable plant. Among the trees are cork oaks, apple, cherry and olives. The island is the base of the spiny lobster industry of South America, and the 287 people now living there export 80,000 a year to Buenos Aires.

The island has a complete hospital and a wireless station but no doctor, so when any one is sick a message is sent to Buenos Aires and a doctor there radios the kind of medicine to be given. When an operation is necessary a surgeon is sent by boat.

On his trip Dr. Schmitt traveled 10,000 miles and his stop farthest south was at Deception Island, about ten hours by boat from the Antarctic continent. He shipped back to Washington 12,000 specimens of marine life, the largest collection of its kind ever made on one trip. These will be studied by scientists at the National Museum.

BUTTERCUP WISDOM

What folly, in a world of sun, to seek the shade always, forgetting bliss that may be won to fill the coming days! What folly, turning back from song and love and light and all the train of joys that throng to lend a life delight! If you and I were only wise, we would not lose one ray of gold that falls from tranquil skies to cheer our daily way. We would not let one pleasure pass, which we could clasp and keep, though light as dewdrop on the grass, or foam-flowers on the deep. But we would treasure every smile and store each joy away till there would be no weary mile on all life's lengthy way. What folly, on this sunlit earth, to sigh in paths of gloom, when every buttercup in mirth lifts up its golden bloom!

"ARMS AND THE MAN"

Sweet Cynthia, would that I could sing.
 In praise of thee as I desire.
 And soaring high on fancy's wing,
 Find words of true poetic fire.

And yet perhaps you'd never surmise.
 Until I whispered in your ear,
 Wherein you most delight mine eyes,
 And what of you I hold most dear.

Not round those lips like Cupid's bow,
 Do my fond fancies mostly play,
 Nor on your eyes, although there grow
 No violet darker-hued than they—

No, Cynthia, chief of all your charms,
 That pleasure bring to the beholder,
 I love the best those round, smooth arms,
 From tapering wrist to shapely shoulder.

Such Milo's Venus did adorn
 So round, so smooth, so softly moulded,
 When she, in fresh-hewn marble born,
 Her beauty to the world unfolded.

What lucky dog is he who in
 The courts of love, by Heaven's grace,
 Some day will thy sweet favor win,
 And taste the joys of their embrace?

Perchance some simple, rustic swain
 Who scarce can tell you chalk from cheese,
 And whose dull eyes appraise in vain,
 Two dimpled beauties such as these.

No let us hope some kinder fate,
 Or happy chance, if she'll but setse it,
 May lead her to some twin-souled mate,
 Who knows a soft thing when he sees it!

LAKE HILL SHOW WELL SUPPORTED

Ward One Saanich Exhibition and Flower Show, held on Wednesday under the auspices of Lake Hill Women's Institute, proved most successful in every way. Entries of vegetables, fruit, flowers, cookery, needlework and children's work were of the highest order.

At three o'clock Reeves Crouch, introduced by the president, Mrs. Scott, opened the show with a few remarks of congratulation to the convenor and assistants.

An outstanding feature of the show was a display of gladioli and dahlias, exhibited by Mr. Cambrey, of Lake Hill. The blooms were magnificent and came in for a great deal of praise. These were not for competition and at the close of the show Mr. Cambrey generously donated them to be auctioned off. Mr. McCallum acted as auctioneer.

The Saanich Health Centre was represented by a small "House of Health," set in a tiny garden, the whole made entirely of fruit and other edibles.

An orthophonic machine lent by Fletcher Bros., supplied music during the afternoon. There was also another display of interest, was that of the Holsum Products Company, now situated at Lake Hill.

An event of the evening was the drawing for the first prize fruit cake, which had been donated by Mrs. William Mercer. Mrs. Pulver was the winner.

At the close of the show, Councilor Borden presented the prizes, after which the flowers and fruit were auctioned.

Mrs. William Mercer was general convenor of the show, with Mrs. Webster and Miss Douglas as secretaries and the following ladies assisting: Vegetables, Mrs. Pook; domestic, Mrs. Peddie; needlework, Mrs. Carpenter and Miss Porter; children's, Mrs. MacNichol; home cooking, Mrs. Service; ice cream, Miss Devenon; tea, Mrs. Akerman; Mrs. Currie, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Calvert, Mrs. Haines; door, Mrs. Harris.

Prizes in various classes were donated by the following: Mr. Courtney, H. O. Kirkham Company, David Spencer, Hudson's Bay Company, Shelly's, Ballantyne Bros., J. M. Paterson, T. Hawkes, Mr. Currie, W. Palmer, Scott & Peden, Lake Hill C.C., Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. T. Simmonds and Mr. F. Borden.

UPLANDS CLUB IS PROSPERING

Membership Now Totals 490, and Will Soon Reach Limit Set in Constitution

IMPROVED WATER SERVICE SOUGHT

Golf was played 355 days in the year ending June 30 last at the Uplands, the club directors reported at the meeting last evening, at which the steady progress during the year was the subject of congratulation.

The Uplands Club now has a membership of 343 men and 147 women, it was stated.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

The directors' report, read by Mr. J. Caven, the secretary, in part, said:

"The roll carries twenty-five more members' names than it did during the previous year. Uplands Club now has a strength of 490, which is the highest mark reached since its organization. The distribution is as follows: Men—Active, 250; absent, 10; non-playing, 3; life, 4; honorary, 3; secretary, 1; juniors, 33; total, 343.

Ladies—Active, 124; absent, 14; non-playing, 1; juniors, 8; total, 147. As the applications for membership continue to exceed losses, it may be expected that the full complement permitted by the constitution soon will be reached."

Reporting on finances, the report remarked: "Revenue account shows a net profit for the year of $2,673.23 after making ample provision for depreciation; that, after taking care of all current obligations, there was $446.79 cash on hand; that, in addition to paying rent and to the retirement of bonds to the extent of $3,200, the sum of $2,566.45 was found for the purchase of a motor tractor, the construction of a parking area, toolshed, draining, etc., and, finally, that subscriptions paid aggregated $19,815, an increase of $1,256.15, whilst green fees totaled $7,000, an increase of $710."

Games were played at Uplands 355 days of the year ending June 30 last, Victoria again maintaining its reputation for all-the-year-round golf.

The only liabilities of the club are $21,400 of bonds outstanding and unpaid accounts amounting to $18.92," said the finance committee.

Considerable work has been done on the fairways during the past year. Parts of the first, second, fifth, sixth, seventh and twelfth fairways were seeded, the greens committee reported.

WATER QUESTION

"By the purchase of a tractor and new mowers, etc., it has been possible to keep the fairways cut and in better condition than in the past."

In regard to the water service, your committee is in the same position as was the case on the submission of its last annual report. The city of Victoria has been able to increase the pressure to the pumps at the Uplands, but the pump service will not permit the club to use the water during the day. Consequently, the Oak Bay municipality has restricted the club to nighttime use of water on our fairways and greens. That is to say, our golfers can be operating only from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. daily.

In our opinion, the only way of obtaining relief will be the laying of a water main from the high pressure service at Government and Douglas Streets, down Hillside Avenue and Lansdowne Road to the Uplands. This would provide a plentiful supply to the district and your committee, and the directors generally, are working along this line. It is expected that they will be able to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement with the Oak Bay municipality and the city of Victoria during the coming year."

BUNKERING

The committee, referring to bunkering, alluded to improvements carried out, and said that while it is recognized that the Uplands course requires more bunkering than it possesses at this time, it also has been appreciated that the golf it offers should not be made too difficult. After all, the club receives most of its support not from players with such low handicaps as to require formidable obstacles to maintain their interest, but from those of average handicaps whose pleasure, perhaps, would be interfered with by unreasonable playing problems.

The house committee reported upon improvements to the clubhouse and grounds.

COMPETITIONS

The match committee reported:

(1) Results of competitions and matches:

Club championship—Winner, A. V. Price, runner-up, C. Brynjolfsson; medalist, J. Savident.

Uplands handicap trophy—Winner, F. Jeffrey.

S. L. Feeley Cup—Winner, R. Morrison.

Jameson Trophy—Winner, S. Peelle.

Hibben-Bone Trophy—Winners, J. Lee and H. E. Brown.

Interclub matches played, nine, won six, lost three.

(2) Three new competitions were inaugurated during the year, viz., the Jameson Trophy for high handicap players, the Hibben-Bone Trophy for foursomes, and the Wilkerson Challenge Trophy for singles.

COMMITTEE ELECTION

The election committee resulted in the reappointment of the present board, composed of Captain A. M. Boyd, D. W. Campbell, Robert Dunn, S. J. Hails, D. A. MacDonald, C. Morrison, J. B. Savident, J. B. Shaw and Andrew Sheret, together with Allan Craig, Sr., who replaces W. F. Loveland.

S. J. Hails, the president, offered as chairman. The committee will meet next Thursday night and select the officers of the organization.

Votes of thanks were extended to members of the committee, and to W. H. Wilkerson, Hibben-Bone, Limited, and R. J. Jameson, who were donors of prizes during the year.

SHIRLEY The Girl Who Leaped Into Life

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

CHAPTER XXI

The call to immediate action clarified Shirley's mind. She must not waste time standing there. There was only one thing to do, and she had no idea how to do it, but she must find a way. All thought of the office had vanished from her mind. It did not even occur to her to turn to Jim. Jim was a vital presence in her life as new, and self-reliance was an old established habit. Neither her temperament nor her training impelled her to her personal emergencies in the hands of the nearest male. A dozen questions spun at mad speed through her mind. Mrs. Cranshaw must be somewhere in the city—but how could she find her? And she could not waste time. She must find her at once, must tell her how terrible, how insanely mistaken she was. Of course she would not go on when she knew. But why hadn't she asked? Why hadn't she called on Shirley for an explanation—or asked Justin, of course. Justin would have told her the truth. But how did she know anything at all? Useless questions—she must not stop for them. She must crowd them all out and make her mind a clear space for the one question—how to find where Mrs. Cranshaw was staying. Not the Hotel Adair, of course—that was Justin's hotel, or had been. He might not even be in town, but if he were, she would hardly go there when she was suing him for divorce. Hotels—

Of course, the newspapers! The Cranshaws were very rich. Unless, like Justin, she had purposely registered illegitimately and kept out of reach, her name would be listed among the arrivals. How long had she been here? There was no telling. She would just have to go through the files and keep on looking till she found it. It was to be found. It seemed to Shirley as she stood at the tall counter turning page after page in the outer office of The Observer that she was caught in some dreadful inferno of monotony. Page after page—page after page—and the hands of the big white-faced clock crept inexorably on. She dared not hurry too fast, for fear that she would miss the name. She became expert—she could turn almost instantly from the hotel arrivals of one day to the page that held those of the day preceding. Then, from the endless mechanical movement of eyes and hands, from some depth of subconscious, uncollected memory came an idea. The main factory of the Cranshaws was in Southern California—she had written letters back to the manager often. That was why Justin had fled to San Francisco when he wanted to "escape." Then if Mrs. Cranshaw was bringing suit in San Francisco—in and for the City and County of San Francisco—the summons read—three months to establish residence? Three months? Where had she read that anywhere? It might not even have anything to do with divorce—she might have read it about something quite different. Never! She felt feverishly back through the paper to the date three months before. That would be just about the time they returned from Chicago. And in three days she came upon the name she was seeking: "Mrs. Justin Cranshaw, formerly Mrs. New York Hotel Franconian."

"Thank you very much," Shirley said with stiff lips to the attendant lounging behind the counter, and hurried almost running, out of the building.

"Say, that was a funny one," the attendant remarked to the nearest "classified ad" girl. "She came in here and began going through those files as if she had all the time in the world and was going clear back to the date of the fire. Then all of a sudden she jumped back two or three months and began hunting as if her life depended on it. She sure was excited as they made 'em. Pretty girl, too."

"Yeah," agreed the ad girl grudgingly. "I suppose so—if you like the type."

Well, anyway, I'll bet there's a story in that. I'll bet there's more stories come into this outer office than the upstairs boys ever dream or hear of."

"I guess you're right at that," the ad girl began expertly counting the lines handed across the counter to her by a customer.

Shirley sped to the Franconian as fast as a taxi would take her. She consulted the room clerk, moved over to a house telephone, and took up the receiver.

"Mrs. Cranshaw? This is Miss Shirley Hardin. I must ask you to see me at once. It's extremely important."

"Very well, I will see you," Shirley could make nothing of the voice. In contrast to her own urgent tones, it was perfectly controlled, colorless. "Will you please come up to my suite?"

Shirley had had but one thought, to find Mrs. Cranshaw before it was too late. The agitation of that search had left no room for reflection as to what she would say when she found her. And yet everything depended on what she said—not on the facts themselves, but on her own power to convince and persuade. Shirley felt suddenly helpless, terrified. Courage was not enough—right was not enough. She must not only face this other woman, she must break through the barrier between them, win her understanding. As she turned from the telephone to the elevator Shirley's face was white.

"I'm frightened," she whispered. "I'm frightened to death. And I've got to keep my head. I can't be frightened!"

She cast one brief glance of panic toward the outer doors. She could walk out of those doors, but there was no escape from life. With ice-cold hands clenched at her sides she entered the elevator cage and with chin lifted, facing fate, was swooped upward.

Princes in Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Without ceremony, the Prince of Wales and Princess George returned to Montreal today. In the station and in the streets outside, crowds cheered as the two princes passed. But the reception, in its informality, was strikingly different from the official welcome of a month ago.

The Prince of Wales has practically only one engagement, that of the Canadian Club luncheon tomorrow, when he says good-bye and gives some impressions of Canada. The day of departure from Montreal for Quebec is as yet uncertain. The two princes sail on Wednesday next on the Empress of Scotland.

Parksville Bazaar

PARKSVILLE, Sept. 1.—A bazaar in aid of St. Mary's Church was held in the Errington War Memorial Hall on Thursday. The hall looked very gay and festive, and the stalls, which were under the management of the following ladies, were prettily decorated in pink and green: Home cooking and garden produce, Mrs. Hewitt; candy and cream, Mrs. Burdett and the Misses Nicklin; bran tub, Mrs. Courtney. The refreshments were capably handled by Mrs. Leffler and Mrs. Ridge. A competition for the table decoration was held, the first prize being awarded to Mrs. W. Leakey, and the second to Mrs. W. Armstrong. An entertainment was held in the evening, a violin solo, songs and sketches by the following ladies and gentlemen being heartily applauded: Mrs. Ware, Mrs. Kingsley, Miss Nicklin, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Braddock, Mrs. Osborne and little Ellen Gurney and Eve Braddock. Mrs. Hewitt and Mr. Morley acted as accompanists. A very successful afternoon and evening were brought to a close with a dance. A substantial sum was handed over to the church fund.

Needlework Exhibit at Provincial Fair

By AMY WARD

Needlework is one of those gifts which enables us "to see ourselves as others see us," for each piece of work is a silent picture of the character and disposition of its creator. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why needlework has lived and flourished throughout all ages of mankind. It has developed and changed with the humors and dispositions of every nation, and today it still stands as one of the best mediums of expressing taste, comfort and beauty wherever it exists.

The Victoria provincial exhibit was no exception to this rule, and the popularity of every item of this section showed a wise choice by the compilers, together with good cooperation on the part of the exhibitors.

Every piece of work was, I firmly believe, the best conception of its exhibitor; consequently the matter of choosing the first and second prizes was by no means an easy task; but if one bears in mind what I remarked at the beginning, that needlework should express the character of the nation, then we may find some foundation upon which to judge.

As a general rule, this foundation or standard may be divided into five headings or five viewpoints, which are: 1, the style of the article; 2, its design or component parts; 3, its utility in present-day life; 4, the finish or neatness with which it is made; and 5, the general effect or impression it gives.

These five points, of course, vary considerably according to the special service of each article. For instance, no one would expect to find the same treatment on flour sacking as on strong cotton, on strong cotton as on fine linen, on fine linen as on silk, and so on. And again, a design which suits a curtain, a cushion, or a "vertical" article would not do for table linen, or for "horizontal" covering.

Then again, an old style which once looked charming in grandma's parlor, has no use or place in our modern daylight homes.

Further, some ladies forget to take into consideration the necessity of choosing a really nice, up-to-date design. They expected everything sold at needlework and pattern counters must, of necessity, be correct. That is probably why some ladies asked what to do when the design was not good. Well, there is only one answer. What do we do with bad eggs and rotten vegetables? Do the same with bad designs and the stores will soon come up to scratch.

Of course, the schools are trying to handle this situation by teaching girls to design their own articles, and this brings us to the children's section, which, I am sorry to say, was not at all illustrative of the amount of needlework which I know the children can do and are doing. I know that holidays interfere, and so on, but, at the same time, I am aware that Victoria and district is supplied with some of the very best sewing teachers of the province who could co-operate with the parents in staging one of the best exhibits of the province.

If the children are not arranged to do their best, let the children's section, which, I am sorry to say, was not at all illustrative of the amount of needlework which I know the children can do and are doing. I know that holidays interfere, and so on, but, at the same time, I am aware that Victoria and district is supplied with some of the very best sewing teachers of the province who could co-operate with the parents in staging one of the best exhibits of the province.

Coal Discovery Commemorated

Monument Being Erected at Nanaimo by Historic Sites Board of Ottawa

NANAIMO, Sept. 1.—Captain J. M. Riddell, of Ottawa, engineer for the Historic Sites Board of the Canadian National Park Committee, Department of the Interior, is in this city superintending the erection of a monument on the oval opposite the Postoffice in commemoration of the discovery of coal in Nanaimo.

The erection of this monument commemorates a movement inaugurated by ex-Mayor Harrison, who during his term as Mayor and as chief factor of Nanaimo Post, Native Sons, was always active in having the foundation of Nanaimo basic industry handed down to posterity. The monument is a granite column three feet square at the base and seven and one-half feet in height, and has been turned out by Mr. C. J. Millins, of the Nanaimo Monumental Works.

By agreement, the site has been turned over by the City Council to the Department of the Interior for a period of ninety-nine years. It has been suggested that instead of the foliage at present growing on the oval, when the monument is erected, said foliage be eliminated and that the base consist only of a grass plot with a few flowers placed at intervals around the exterior of the oval.

The inscription on the monument, written by ex-Mayor Harrison, is as follows: "Discovery of coal at Nanaimo, and its development by the Hudson's Bay Company, ushered in a period of development which would have taken a decade to materialize if it were not for the continuous shipping of coal to all important points on the North Pacific Coast and to merchant and naval ships continuously since the year 1852, when its existence was made known to the company by Indians."

"In this year the Hudson's Bay Company commenced the construction of the Bastion to safeguard the white settlers."

"This monument stands approximately 200 yards north of the point of discovery and 200 yards south of the pit head of the first commercial coal mine."

Cowichan Bay
Mrs. George Boyer, of Duncan, and her mother, Mrs. Leah, of Nanaimo, are spending their holidays at Cowichan Bay Inn.

The vogue for velveteen sports coats has brought this material into smart summer usage. It appears in practically all colors, favoring rich blue and brilliant green, and is well liked in the three-quarter length with stitched edges, as in the model shown above. Such a coat is smart for town or country wear, and the deeper colors are lovely over white or pastel summer dresses.

PERMIT COSTS TO BE CHANGED

Oak Bay Council Will Establish New Charges for Plumbing and Building Licences

The cost of building permits in Oak Bay will be altered in the near future in accordance with the terms of a new measure, the Building Permit By-Law, which reached the committee stage at last night's special meeting of the Municipal Council with Reeve Herbert Anson presiding.

Sliding scales for both building and plumbing permits will be established. Formerly a flat fee of $2.50 has been charged for a plumbing permit. In future the fee will be based on the number and kind of fixtures installed. A fee of $1 will be charged for each thousand dollars of the value of the house to be built. In the past a flat fee of $2 has been charged for a building permit.

The Sign By-Law was given its third reading last night. In deference to representations of the Real Estate Board, it was decided not to limit the number of signs a lot, but to place restrictions on their size.

The by-law authorizing the exchange of property with Mr. C. G. Pemberton whereby the Council will acquire one and three-quarters acres of land on the summit of Gonzales Heights was finally passed. The municipality will now be able to extend Walbran Park to embrace the "sleeping Indian rock."

Municipal Clerk R. F. Blandy read several letters from citizens protesting against the existence of the garbage dump at Monterey Crescent. A spark from a bonfire on the dump recently started a grass fire which burned over about an acre of land before it was extinguished. Regarding allegations that the fire hydrant was found to be partially plugged at the time of the fire, the municipal engineer stated that the hydrant functioned efficiently. The engineer also reported that the garbage dump was not a menace to health. The letters were ordered filed.

SAANICH LANDS AUCTIONED TODAY

Tax Reverted Property to Go Under Hammer of R. R. F. Sewell, C.M.C., at 10 o'clock

Several hundred parcels of Saanich tax-reverted lands, including several houses, will be auctioned off this morning at 10 o'clock by Mr. R. R. F. Sewell, C.M.C., at 10 o'clock, by Mr. R. R. F. Sewell, C.M.C.

Since 1914 tax sales in Saanich have been an annual affair and have been the means of many people securing bargains in municipal property. This year there is a noticeable decrease in the amount of property to be put under the hammer, and those who still wish to redeem their land have until 10 o'clock this morning to do so.

Land offered lies in practically every ward in Saanich and consists mainly of lots and tracts of unimproved property. All parcels are subject to redemption by the owner within twelve months, after which an indefeasible title is granted to the buyer.

Silk smuggling, which has become a problem in England, is said to be netting some smugglers as much as $1,000 a week.

Alderman James Adam Tells of Visit of Football Players to New Zealand

Speaking at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday Alderman James Adam, manager of the All-Canadian football team, characterized the recent trip to New Zealand an outstanding success.

"There was more than football behind our visit," said Alderman Adam. "Our tour did more to bind these two widely separated Dominions of the Empire together than anything else could do, as well as well as popularizing soccer 'Down Under,' where Rugby is the premier game." The speaker told of civic and Rotary receptions in every city of the Dominion tendered to the visitors, whose first greetings were received by radio aboard R.M.S.

Bush Pilots Pirates Pennantville Bound
Pittsburgh Has Been Handicapped by Illness and Accidents, but Plucky Manager Battled On—Owen Is a Little Man, but Has Great Driving Force—May Land Gonfalon

By GEORGE MORRISSEY
Manager of the Detroit baseball team, former Big League third baseman, and for ten years an American League umpire.
(Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)
Pittsburgh's Pirates have done better under Owen Bush's management this year than one could expect under the circumstances. These circumstances have beaten many game men, but they did not stagger Bush.

There have been few days this year when Pittsburgh had her regular line-up in. Two and three regulars were generally missing. Illness and accidents broke up the team near the start of the season and kept it fairly well broken. At one time, near midseason, Bush did not have one regular pitcher in shape to go through nine innings.

Through it all, Bush kept a stiff upper lip. That's his way. He managed Washington several years ago, building up the team Stanley Harris led to two pennants and a world championship.

STARTS WITH SEVENTEEN
I met Bush on his way to Washington at the start of the season, and this conversation took place:
"What kind of an outfit have you?"
"Oh, I'm starting the season with seventeen players."
The fact that he had only seventeen players, where other managers had at least twenty-five, did not worry Bush in the least.

He was developed by Hughie Jennings, as aggressive, fiery and courageous a manager as ever lived. Bush seems to have absorbed the Jennings spirit completely. He is the same type. He is never licked.

Pittsburgh, with only a few stars, needed a man of precisely the Bush type to bring out the baseball they are capable of playing. Had he been a chucker, and Radcliffe, of the same team, followed with two more. Rogers, in the second chukker, made the total score 4 to 0. The Virginia Ranch team scored two goals. In the third there was no score. In the fourth, Colonel Montague, of Winnipeg, scored two goals, the first for his team in the game. In the fifth there was no score. R. Montague, of Winnipeg, made the one and only tally in the final.

HOODOO "13"
No. 13 proved its traditional hoodoo in yesterday's Canadian National Exhibition $50,000 marathon swim. George Young, eighteen-year-old Toronto hero of Catalina, started the race yesterday morning, carrying this number and the hopes of many friends. He began well and soon the "hoodoo" number spread its influence, and George had his first misfortune when he went a considerable distance off the course. He recovered lost ground, however, and for four hours showed the way to the world's greatest swimmers. Suddenly he called to Henry O'Byrne, his manager, in the accompanying boat. He was in trouble.

He was pulled from the water and out of the race. No. 13 had won again its place in tradition.

Young, on Monday afternoon, had actually asked that he be given number 13 in the race. Those among his friends who believe in the "hoodoo," shook their heads, and when he failed, said: "I told you so."

The latest theory on the sensational retirement of George Young was given late today by an official in the judges' boat, which was in proximity to Young when he quit.

The official, Aubrey E. Ireland, said:

"I saw George weakening and when I saw the German pass him I knew he was done. Just after Vierkoetter passed him, Young began to tread water."

"I guess he is through," O'Byrne said to me.
"Are you satisfied?" I asked O'Byrne, and he replied "Yes."
"George was then taken into the boat. The German was about fifty yards ahead of him then."

YOUNG HADN'T CRAMPS
"Young hadn't cramps—it was condition. He had been badly trained. Twenty pounds had been taken off him when it should have been put on."

Vierkoetter's remarkable success is attributed to the skill of his trainer, Johnny Walker, who developed George Young as a swimmer, and who was later, in Los Angeles, renounced by Young.

HEROIC PERFORMANCE
Fred H. Scott, of St. Catharines, Ontario, and Donald Gladie, of Batavia, N.Y., gave up the swimming race yesterday to save the life of another competitor, Maddena Chobowski, of Chicago. Chobowski went down several times with cramps and was nearly drowned. He was rescued by Scott and Gladie, who were nearby, and went to his assistance and held him up until the doctors' boat arrived.

PICK OF LOCAL BOYS
Bill Peden and Stan Jackson are the pick of the local boys and will be somewhere near the first place in their class. Bill is the present holder of the Moody Cup and the two-mile British Columbia championship. His colleague, Stan Jackson, is a fast rider and until recently held the Mayer Pendray Bowl for the one mile club championship, which he lost to Bill Peden this season by inches.

The riders who will compete in the various events, and their numbers, are as follows:
1. G. D. Parrott; 2. I. McEvin; 3. W. C. Epley; 4. Claude Peden; 5. W. Robbins; 6. E. Peden; 7. S. Dowling; 8. R. Wernsey; 9. L. Harman; 10. S. Jackson; 11. M. Irving; 12. A. McPhee; 13. W. Rain Floods Courts Halting Playing of Big Tennis Matches

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1.—Rain flooded the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club, postponing all matches in the national doubles tournament until tomorrow and delaying the final play-off until Monday. No attempt to play tomorrow will be made, however, until the turf is dry by one o'clock.

ROBERTSON IS ELECTED HEAD

LOCAL SOCCER MAGNATE AGAIN HEAD OF L.F.A.—L. GRAY IS SECRETARY

Dr. Arthur Poynts Is Chairman
Pro Tem. of Victoria and District Football League

Alex Robertson was elected president of the L.F.A. at the organization meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last night. L. Gray, a well-known footballer and soccer circles, was elected secretary. Council members were elected as follows: Sandford, Bradley, Stokes and Peden.

Dr. Arthur Poynts, prominent Esquimalt sportsman, was elected president pro tem. of the Victoria and District Football League, and Jack Ewing, of Saanich, was elected as secretary. A meeting of all the clubs in the league is called for Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A., to formulate plans for the coming season.

As far as can be ascertained at present, there is every possibility of six clubs competing in the First Division this season. In addition to Esquimalt, Saanich, Thistles, Victoria Wests and James Island, it is expected that Victoria City and the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment will cast their lot with the local league. The former club has already made its entry in the Pacific Coast Football League, but this does not prevent it from participating in the local league.

WESTS TO MEET
Tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A., the Victoria West soccer club will hold its organization meeting. All last year's players and any others interested are asked to be present.

BRITISH BOWLERS REACH PACIFIC
VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Accompanied by two Ontario rinks, the party of British International lawn bowlers arrived here today.

At noon the visitors were guests of the Municipality of Point Grey at luncheon, later playing their first match against the local club. This evening local bowling clubs are entertaining with a banquet.

BOXED FOUR ROUNDS
After two fast rounds, jammed with clever action, Chuck turned over the ring burden to Billy Vidaback, New Jersey middleweight, who worked another pair with the titleholder. Gene punched the light bag for three rounds to top a day that began with an hour and a half of road work in the morning.

SPEED DEMONS READY FOR BIG CYCLE MEET
Thirty speed demons of the cycle track, rated as the fastest men on the Pacific Coast, will compete in the monster cycling meet which is being staged at the Royal Athletic Park on Labor Day, September 5. The first race will start promptly at 1 o'clock.

Existing British Columbia and Canadian records, it is expected, will be ridden into disarray. Victoria boasts of the finest track in the country. The course will be in first class condition for the meet, and the patrons are promised thrills galore.

Prominent among the cyclists will be Jim Davies, of Vancouver, present half and one-mile Canadian champion, and last year's winner of The Daily Colonist Cup. Jim needs no introduction to the followers of the local speedway, as his previous efforts here have rated him as one of the most dangerous contenders of the meet. Davies, through his sportsmanship always gets a big hand from the fans, and a large number no doubt will be on hand to see him perform on the holiday card.

Tunney Moves His Training Quarters To Chicago Today

Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis Battler, Old Ring Foe of Champion, Joins Gene's Camp, and Reports Him a Great Fighter With More Speed Than When He Was in Light Heavy Class

JACK TAKES REST
CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—A bruised left shoulder has interrupted the rigorous routine at Jack Dempsey's training camp, but today was expected to see a return to normalcy.

Dempsey injured his shoulder during a boxing bout Sunday and preferred to curtail his programme yesterday rather than risk aggravating the injury. He did only a little road work and played a few holes of golf, leaving his sparring partners to satisfy the several hundred fans who went to Lincoln Fields to see the former champion.

Manager Leo P. Flynn said he did not intend to hurry the ex-champion along.

TALENT FOR PRELIMS
NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Poles who attend the Dempsey-Tunney show in Chicago this month will see a number of Eastern heavyweights in action. Illinois has produced no heavyweights of promise since the preliminaries for the heavyweight title fight are being stretched out by Jess McMahon, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden. Among the talent he has lined up are Monte Munn, Johnny Grosso, Jimmy Braddock, George La Rocco, Wyoming Warner and Benny Touchstone. The pairings will be announced next week.

BOASTING PREVIOUS VICTORIES
Tiger Flowers, former middleweight champion, and Young Stripling, Wiggins created a sensation some what akin to that which will greet the sun when it first manages to break through the rain clouds here. Atired in full length purple ring costume, Chuck entertained with rounds of shadow boxing and rope skipping and presented a vivid picture of the ring burden to Billy Tunney for the first time in four years.

BOXED FOUR ROUNDS
After two fast rounds, jammed with clever action, Chuck turned over the ring burden to Billy Vidaback, New Jersey middleweight, who worked another pair with the titleholder. Gene punched the light bag for three rounds to top a day that began with an hour and a half of road work in the morning.

Two Yankees Who Are Waging Big Fight for 1927 Home Run Honors

BABE RUTH AND LOU GEHRIG

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—If Babe Ruth is beaten by his warring young teammate, Lou Gehrig, in the 1927 race for home-run honors, it will be the first time in nine years that the battering Bambino, in full health and strength and during a full season, has bowed to any rival.

Ruth has been outstaged twice in eight seasons of home-run carnage, on both occasions by Rogers Hornsby, but the Babe had a good alibi each time.

In 1922, when Ruth, after his banner year, yielded home-run laurels to Hornsby, the Bambino spent the early part of the season on the sidelines, under suspension for defying Commissioner Landis in making a barnstorming tour of the country.

Starting late, Ruth made a gallant effort to overtake Hornsby, but fell seven homers short, their respective totals being 43 and 35.

Again in 1925 Hornsby got the advantage of an early start, while the Babe was out of action with his famous stomach-ache. The "Rajah" led the numbing parade that season with thirty-nine homers while the invalid Ruth, below his customary form even when he did return to the line-up, collected only twenty-five.

The only other year, outside of the current campaign, when Ruth's supremacy has been checked was in 1923 when the Yankee clouter was tied with Cy Williams of the Phillies at forty-one homers apiece.

Gehrig, the "Boy Buster," has hit as many home runs this season, so far, as he did in his two previous campaigns with the Yankees put together. Columbia, Lou bagged twenty-one in his first full season, 1925, and sixteen last year.

Whether or not he beats out Ruth in the home-run derby, Gehrig has taken his place among the select few who have pored out more than forty homers in one season. Ruth has done it five times, Hornsby once and Cy Williams once.

WATER GALA WILL BE BIG ATTRACTION

Mainland Swimmers Will Be Here in Force on Labor Day to Oppose Victoria's Best

WATER POLO TITLE WILL BE AT STAKE

Crystal Garden Pool Will Present Scene of Much Activity—Local Contingent to Be at Full Strength

Vancouver swimmers will be over in full force on Monday, when seven British Columbia championships and several other open events will be contested at the Crystal Garden pool, under the auspices of the V.A.S.C., who are staging their fifteenth annual gala.

One of the finest programmes of championship events ever staged in this city will be presented during the evening, and spectators are assured of the finest sport and keenest competition ever seen at any of the local organization's meets.

Those who witnessed the intercity championships on May 24 will realize that with swimmers of such calibre as Vancouver possesses, Victoria has to "step fast" to gain points, and with the improvement shown during the summer, the local stars will have a hard time keeping up with the pace.

A FEATURE OF MEET

A feature of the meet will be the ladies' one-metre board fancy diving championship. This will be the first event of its kind ever held indoors in British Columbia, and as the ladies are rapidly coming to the front in this branch of the sport, the event should be worth seeing.

Victoria A.S.C. will be out to defend the Mrs. Lee water polo trophy, which they annexed last year, but as Vancouver has a victory to its credit in the intercity series since then, the issue is doubtful. Several of the stars who brought the P.N.A. water polo championship to Victoria some years ago will line up on the Victoria team and this should go a long way towards settling the issue.

A boys' breast stroke race and a girls' breast stroke race have been added to the programme. This event is confined to boys and girls who have not yet reached their fifteenth birthday. All those desirous of entering should have their names handed in at the Crystal Garden not later than 6 p.m. on Saturday. Only

FAMOUS AUTHORITY ON SPEED OF LIGHT IS NOT SO SPEEDY

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Professor Albert A. Michelson, world-famous authority on the speed of light and the motion of heavenly bodies, grooved not so good at the judging of speed of the fell-covered sphere on a tennis court this week.

The seventy-four-year-old scientist, paired with Fred Pearson, his research assistant for the past twenty-four years, was defeated in the finals of the University of Chicago tennis department tournament, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3. The winning team was Arthur H. Compton, professor of physics, and Fenton Stearn, graduate laboratory student.

HEAVY SCORING IS CRICKET FEATURE

Players Make 561 for Six Wickets in Game With Gentlemen—Other Scores Announced

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A splendid stand between Hendren, of Middlesex, and Hammond, of Gloucestershire, marked the first innings of the Players against the Gentlemen in their cricket match at Folkestone today. Hendren scored 103 and Hammond 138. They materially helped in enabling the Players to score the tremendous total of 561 for six wickets, the total of the professionals when stumps were drawn for the day. The Gentlemen scored 281 in the first innings yesterday. Closing scores today in other cricket matches were:

Sussex vs. Essex, at Brighton—Sussex, 317; Essex, 411 (Russell, 110; Franklin, 90, not out); Sussex, 18 for three wickets.

Kent vs. New Zealand, at Canterbury—Kent, 405; New Zealand, 293; Kent, 217 for six wickets (Woolley, 110, not out).

Yorkshire vs. the M.C.C., at Scarborough—M.C.C., 199; Yorkshire, 222 (Clay, four wickets for 32).

Glamorgan vs. Nottinghamshire, at Swansea—Nottinghamshire, 233; Glamorgan, 375 (Richmond five wickets for 102); Nottinghamshire, 23 for two wickets.

GOLF TOURNEY NEXT WEEK AT JASPER PARK

Harry Jones, of Vancouver, to Defend Coveted Silver Totem Pole Trophy on the C.N.'s Fine Course

BIG FIELD WILL SEEK SILVERWARE

Jimmy Rimmer, Jasper Star, and Other Professionals Will Give Exhibitions

JIM RIMMER

JASPER, Alta., Sept. 1.—When Harry Jones, of Vancouver, comes here to defend possession of the Jasper Park Lodge Silver Totem Pole trophy, which is a feature of the annual golf tournament, to be staged this season from September 10 to 17, he will find many challengers from the East, from the Prairie Provinces, British Columbia, and the Pacific slope.

Generally the entry list promises to be fully double that of last year. The Silver Totem Pole trophy is the most original of all golf trophies, and guarded by its four Jasper bears in silver, it presents something both different and typical of the course which is the scene of the competition.

MANY NEWCOMERS

Last September there was a field of golfers of high calibre, quite representative of Canada and the Pacific slope clubs. The experience of the first tournament, the merits of the greens and fairways and the grandeur of its surroundings were such as to instill a spirit of real enthusiasm amongst those who participated, with the result that newcomers are to test their golf skill at Jasper this season.

Jack Cuthbert, of Winnipeg, holder of the Western Canada open title, will be an invader, and with him will come a representative group from his home city, the home of many excellent players. From Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, and other western points numerous entries have been received, with indications that a large field will square away for the qualifying round.

In addition to the amateurs, some of the western professionals will give exhibitions, including James Rimmer, professional at Jasper, and Ned McKina, professional at Minaki. Rimmer proved to be the sensation of the first part of the contest between the Canadians and the British Ryder Cup players, who competed in the Royal Canadian Golf Association's special professional contest at Toronto. Rimmer led the field, but at Montreal he had to give way to Havers, former British open champion, although his performance was such as to indicate clearly the high standard of his golf.

TOURNEY COMMITTEE

The tournament committee is composed of A. J. Hills, of Montreal, chairman; W. E. Hodges, of Vancouver, vice-president of the British Columbia Golf Association, with C. L. Weldon, now of Edmonton, as secretary.

The old course, which has been constructed by the Canadian National Railways within Jasper Park, the world's largest national park, combines the large scale of American courses as well as the modern scale of length and bunkering treatment found at Gleneagles.

COWICHAN BAY, Sept. 1.—Cowichan Bay is holding its second regatta this year. This will be a big affair, with boats from all around taking part. A dance will be held at the Cowichan Bay Inn on the evening of September 3.

CAPITOL Norman Kerry and Claire Windsor are the stars in "The Claw." A Universal-Jewel backed this week at the Capitol Theatre. The story is from the prolific pen of Cynthia Stockley and has for a background the adventures of a beautiful English girl on the African veldt. Sidewalk Olcott directed. In addition to the picture attractions, there are three superb acts in vaudeville, which include Geo. Danguay and his Scotch Highland Flashes, in a gorgeous Scottish song, dance and jazz revue. Roberta Balcom, the noted Victorian dancer, will also appear in her very latest dance creation, and Ramona Rambert will be featured in several soprano solo selections.

COLUMBIA "The Outlaws of Red River," Fox Film's latest production, starring Tom Mix, now showing at the Columbia Theatre. The story of a long search for a bandit gang. Mix has the role of a Texas ranger. The story starts with Tom as a boy, crossing the Texas bad lands. Outlaws raid the wagon of his foster parents and sister. The parents are slain and the little girl carried away. Tom grows up determined to find his playmate and her mother. He becomes a ranger and is sent to break up the gang that is operating along Red River. He poses as an outlaw and robs a stage coach for which the gang is waiting. After the stage robbery he races away on Tony and leads the gang a wild chase until he escapes. Later he comes upon them and proposes a merger, with him joining the Red River outfit.

COLISEUM An interesting little theatre touch in "The Game of Life" is the scene of Stephenson's Rocket, the first English steam engine to be used as a passenger train, which made its first trip about the time of Queen Victoria's coronation in 1837. The antiquated engine is seen tearing along at the rate of eight miles an hour, supposedly on the day of the Queen's coronation. In the cab the engineer who, with his silk hat and afternoon clothes, looks at least like a prime minister or a baronet, sticks his head out of the window, looking to see if the road is clear. And in the filmy passenger coaches are the dainty ladies with bonnets and parasols and the gallant gentlemen with their high hats and Victorian dress suits. The glimpse of Stephenson's Rocket, as seen in "The Game of Life" is one of the great remarkable touches ever staged in motion pictures.

VARIETY During the making of "Moulders of Men," the F.B.O. picture sponsored by the Elks and which is now showing at the Variety Theatre, Samuel V. Morris, leading citizen of Minneapolis, visited the sets where Ralph Ince was working, and for the first time since he entered pictures, saw his daughter, Margaret Morris, acting before the camera. "Moulders of Men" is the father, for he is a Past Exalted Ruler of Minneapolis Lodge of Elks, and is proud of the fact that the daughter of an Elk was selected to play the leading feminine role.

Many Canadian Authors Are Unknown in Quebec

Translation of Books Written in English Language Is Urged—Market Awaits Enterprising Publishers—Works Reveal History

QUEBEC, Sept. 1.—Why is it that the literature of English-speaking Canada is so little known to French-speaking Canadians? While the books of several of our leading authors have been translated into French and are widely read in Paris, they are practically unknown in the Province of Quebec.

Probably the principal reason for this ignorance lies in the fact that the universities and colleges of the oldest province entirely omit English-Canadian literature from their curricula. They provide comprehensive courses in English literature; French-Canadian writers receive due attention; but an important national body of novelists, poets and historians is ignored.

The French-Canadian collector completes his education without having received any encouragement to read the novels of Sir Gilbert Parker, or the poems of Archibald Lampman, Charles G. D. Roberts, and Duncan Campbell Scott—works which are innately Canadian and play a important part in interpreting the life of the nation. Though he will read some Canadian books in English, he will naturally turn with greatest pleasure to those published in his own language and the works of English-Canadian authors available to him in French will be pitifully few.

But if this student travels abroad the situation will be very different. In Paris he will come upon French translations of several of these authors and will find that they are enjoying wide popularity.

Thus M. Larocque, who writes upon literary and artistic subjects for French-Canadian periodicals, remarked the other day that he never heard of Professor Stephen Leacock until he went to Paris. There he heard Leacock's nonsense books greatly praised, but it was not until he had read several of them in French that he learned that the author was one of his own countrymen. Yet he had been educated in

NEW HOMESITES FOR MENNONITES

Three Thousand of Sect Are Selecting Farms in Republic of Paraguay

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Mennonites to the number of 3,000 are now choosing homesites on a tract of about 4,000,000 acres in the Republic of Paraguay, which country, if the land and other factors prove as satisfactory as it appears at the present time, may become the future home of Mennonites throughout the world.

The 3,000 who are now there, or who are on their way there, are from Canada and the United States, largely from the former place. The Mennonites of Paraguay have been selected largely as a result of the advice of Gen. Samuel McRoberts, chairman of the board of directors of the Chatham-Phoenix National Bank & Trust Company, who among other numerous duties more prominently in the public eye, holds the interesting position of financial adviser to the Mennonite colony.

Gen. McRoberts, who has just returned from an extensive trip through South America, said that on his way across the South American Continent he had gone into the wilds of Paraguay and looked over the land which the Mennonites have arranged to settle on.

It is virgin ground, has all natural advantages and conforms to Mennonite ideas of isolation, said Gen. McRoberts. The tract embraces 4,000,000 acres, on which members of the religious sect are permitted to choose what sections of it they wish.

Although the Government of Paraguay is intensely interested in having the Mennonite settlement, the land used is not a public grant, but is acquired at low cost through private transactions. Payment is to be part cash and part by tender of Canadian lands in exchange.

Gen. McRoberts said he first became interested in helping the Mennonites solve their problems about five years ago and when they desired to found a new colony he recommended Paraguay. As a preliminary the bank official engaged an explorer to investigate and report on the property available in that country. The choice of the present tract resulted from these surveys and the visit of members of the colony to the new home.

Conditions in South American countries are normal and great development has taken place in nearly all countries, Gen. McRoberts said, since he visited them seven years ago. The progress made in Argentina, he declared, was particularly noteworthy.

The Mennonites are a Protestant Christian sect which originated in Switzerland four centuries ago. They are peace-loving and opposed to the bearing of arms and active participation in civil affairs. In the last 400 years colonies have been established in most of the important countries in the world.

the province in which Prof. Leacock resides.

A few of Sir Gilbert Parker's novels have undergone translation in France, but they have not reached the French-Canadian reader. Surely such stories as "The Seats of the Mighty" and "When Valmond Came to Pontiac," both of which portray in graphic manner the early life of French Canada, would find a ready public if they were published in the Province of Quebec today in the French language.

Of recent years a number of books dealing with Canada's senior province have been published in English and have been read and appreciated in every province save that of which they treat. One of the most interesting of these is a collection of French-Canadian studies prepared by Frank Oliver Call, which, it has been pointed out, would lend themselves readily to translation. It is suggested by M. Larocque that capable translators of such books would be welcomed by the French-Canadian reader.

Spuds and Mush And Out Bread Long Life Diet

BELFAST, Sept. 1.—Potatoes, oat bread and porridge were the principal items of diet of Neal Boyce, who died recently in Donegal at the age of 115.

Mr. Boyce was active enough to wield a scythe ten years ago, on the occasion of his 105th birthday.

YUCATAN MAY SEIZE PLANTS

By a recent decree, the State Government of Yucatan may seize any industrial plant or plantation which ceases operations without the consent of the workmen's unions. The decree followed the closing down of many small industries and enterprises, which was causing an increase of unemployment. The law is expected to place such great risks and obligations upon employers that it will make the situation still more acute and undermine the few industries that have thus far survived.

PLANTER INCREASES CROPS

That his recently invented planter not only saves seed, but increases crops from 100 to 200 per cent, is claimed by an Austrian. The new device places the seeds at exact intervals which can be regulated according to the kind. It is said that grains and other produce sown with this outfit sprouted two to three weeks earlier than those planted by other devices or methods. They are also deeper green, longer, and the stalks are larger.

LENINGRAD, Sept. 1.—Hundreds of costly gowns worn by the late Czarina and her daughters, the Grand Duchesses Olga, Tatiana, Maria and Anastasia, and dozens upon dozens of uniforms belonging to the former Czar and Czaravitch, are being preserved in spacious Alexandrovsky Palace at Czarskoye Selo, now rechristened Detskoye Selo.

There are Paris-made dresses for all occasions, many of them richly embroidered and trimmed with sable, ermine, white and blue fox, and Oriental and court dresses, the latter with long trains, embroidered with silver and gold on white moire silk.

Practically every regiment of the Czarist army and many foreign ones, of which Nicholas II was honorary commander, are represented in the collection of uniforms. Other rooms contain the uniforms and national costumes belonging to the young Czaravitch, and there are also a number of most elaborate Oriental bride's dresses collected by the ill-fated Grand Duchess.

BREWERY PLANS IN THE BALANCE

Erection of $200,000 Plant in Nanaimo Depends on Advantages to be Offered

NANAIMO, Sept. 1.—With the possibility of the erection of a $200,000 brewery in Nanaimo, Mr. F. G. Sick, manager of the Lethbridge Brewery, accompanied by Dr. Inglis, of Victoria, and associates, is in the city looking over the situation. The control of the Nanaimo Breweries, Limited, has been taken over by the above gentlemen and Coast associates. Up to the present nothing has been done in the way of selecting sites, nor have there been any inducements offered the prospective builders of a brewery. It is a question, they say, of advantages to be derived as to whether the new plant will be built in Nanaimo or Vancouver.

It is understood that Mr. Sick and his associates will today interview Mayor Busby and members of the City Council, outlining their plans, and including in a general review of the possibilities offered by the city for the establishment of a two hundred thousand dollar enterprise.

NANAIMO, Sept. 1.—On Monday next the twelfth annual field day of the mine rescue and first aid competitions, under the auspices of the Vancouver Island and Coast District Branch of the British Columbia Mine Safety Association, will open on the Central Sports Grounds with a lengthy programme.

Workmen are building an "experimental mine" on the scene of operation, including "smoke room," tables for rescue apparatus, an imaginary mine, etc. A new feature is being introduced in mine rescue work this year, inasmuch as every team competing will be asked to solve the same problem. The team will enter the "mine," where the explosion is supposed to have occurred, and the leader will be handed his "problem" to solve, in the way of exploration of the wrecked area, and the possible rescue of the explosion victims.

The judges for the mine rescue contest will be Chief Inspector James Dixon and Inspector J. MacDonald, of the Department of Mines, assisted by Mr. George Wake, inspector of mines for the State of Washington.

Dr. G. A. B. Hall, Nanaimo, will act as chief judge of the first aid events, while other judges will be Dr. O. O. Ingham, Nanaimo; Dr. Trites, Cassidy; Drs. Nickle and Maxwell, Ladysmith; and Dr. G. MacNaughton, Cumberland.

A TREAT FOR YOU!

Enthusiastic Comments on Marvelube Motor Oil from a few of its 200,000 users

"Using Marvelube we notice a very marked improvement in the performance of the car. The motor had a softer and smoother tone and a very elusive knock completely disappeared. We drove eleven hundred miles before changing the oil and the oil was the best in every respect that I have ever seen taken out of a car."

F. A. Menzies, Fillmore, Sask.

"My car has gone about 1,000 miles since I put in Marvelube and I have not changed the oil since."

"My car has much better power, climbs hills with much more ease, seems to have more speed, runs smoother and cooler than it ever did before."

G. M. Robinson, Kempville, Ont.

"Since using this oil in my various grades, I find greater pulling power at lower speeds and less carbon formation in this equipment. I find also that my engine runs cooler as a result of using this oil."

D. E. Bronson (Government Mechanic), Department of Public Works, Salmon Arm Riding, B.C.

"I filled my car with Marvelube when starting on my vacation, and travelled 2,100 miles, mostly in the States, where the heat was intense, at some points as high as 110° in the shade. I added no oil whatever during the 2,100 miles, and when I finally drained it out it was in such splendid condition that the Service Station didn't want to take it out."

G. J. Rathbone (Manager), Bendy Way Specialty Co., Hamilton, Ont.

"We recently tried out your 'Marvelube Heavy' in one of our Essex Coaches, and have found it to give excellent results."

A. Kingston (Accountant), London Hires-Essex Sales, London, Ont.

"I have been using Marvelube ever since it came on the market, and we have had the very best results. We find it entirely free from carbon and we seem to get smoother operation of our engines when using this oil."

N. Bertrand, President, Diamond Taxis Association Limited, Montreal, Que.

"I have used Marvelube Medium in a Chevrolet Landau ever since it came on the market and have had the very best of satisfaction. It really is wonderful."

J. C. Stumm, McConnell, Man.

"I formerly used an imported high grade oil in my Buick 6 1923 Model Touring Car, and had always more or less trouble on account of the engine running hot. Since using Marvelube, I always have a cool engine and my car has more power than ever before."

L. R. Gates, General Merchant, Middleton
